

Best wishes to all my student friends

by Narendra Modi 4. March 2010 01:00

Friends,

Come March and it is the season of exams. Board exams have started; and it is a big day for all students as well as their parents.

My fellow friends, future of nation, who are going to appear for exam of class X and class XII, I wish them great success in their Endeavor.

Every achievement is rooted deep in hardwork, determination and dedication. The best of learnings get tested through the journey of life. In that sense we all are students of life.

Here, I would like to quote Swami Vivekananda's lines - 'Arise, awake and do not stop till the goal is reached'.

Exams they say are part and parcel of life. Leave all your worries behind and perform for knowledge. Results will follow automatically.

At the end, I would like to share with you my success formula -

"Desire + stability = Resolution. Resolution + Hard work = Success".

I am sure each one of you is capable of contributing to the bright future of our nation. Best wishes to all my student friends.
